Miami Art Museum

Scholastic Art Awards
January 22, 2006 @ 1:00 – 4:00 PM

WHAT: 2006 Scholastic Art Awards Ceremony

WHERE: Miami Art Musuem, 101 West Flagler

WHEN: Saturday, January 22, 2006, 1-4 pm

PHOTO OP: The MAM Ball has become a signature event for the museum. MAM'S Ball is considered one of the top national museum fundraisers and is anticipated as one of the major events on Miami's social calendar. Held traditionally during the first week of December, it now crowns a week of Art Basel-related events. 600 of Miami's cultural, business and government leaders and Art Basel VIPs will arrive for cocktails at a 24,000 square-foot tent pitched on the site of the future Museum Park. Guests include County Manager George M. Burgess, Ambassador Paul Cejas, philanthropist Ella Fontanals Cisneros, Mayor Manny Diaz, artist Edouard Duval Carrié, developer Jorge Perez and artist James Rosenquist. The site reflects the beauty of Miami's landscape, and looks ahead to a landmark building and a sculpture garden for the Miami Art Museum. The tent itself will be elegantly decorated in a richly layered, oriental flavored décor dotted with subtle water elements. Following cocktails, Ball subscribers will enjoy a sit-down dinner catered by celebrity chef Barton G and dancing to the music of George Tandy's renowned Party Band. Subscriptions to the Ball, which ranged from $600-$1,000 a person and $6,000 to $25,000 a table, are completely sold out.
